R. C. DEEP WATER PORT RECOMMENDED IN WASHINGTON

Division Engineer Modifies District Engineer's Plans; Committee Studying Matter

Redwood City's disappointment caused by the Western Pacific's request for a year's extension of time to build its peninsula line, as announced Wednesday, was temporarily forgotten when word came from Washington that the War Department's division engineer had recommended to the rivers and harbors' board deep water port facilities for the local harbor.

A telegram from Congressman Arthur M. Free to Mayor Daniel Stafford states that the division engineer, modifying the report of the district engineer, recommends a channel 200 feet wide and 27 feet deep from San Francisco bay to Westpoint slough, with a turning basin at the junction of the two waterways about 1200 feet long, 950 feet wide and 30 feet deep. The estimated cost is $133,500. Annual maintenance is estimated at $4500.

The recommendation is subject to the provision that local interests contribute $66,750 and furnish necessary rights of way and suitable areas for disposal of dredged material and also furnish assurance satisfactory to the secretary of war that local money will provide a slip and wharf open to the public, capable of handling 125,000 tons of commerce annually.

Whether the recommendation of the United States division engineer, which considerably modifies the findings of the district engineer, will be accepted by the Citizens' Harbor Development Committee without further action, cannot be determined until there has been some opportunity to study the report, according to unofficial views obtained from members of the committee today. Carl Stoner is chairman of the committee and Howard Wood, manager of the chamber of commerce, is secretary.

A meeting of the committee will be called soon, the report will be considered carefully, and a plan of action will be made. The recommendation as it stands accomplishes one very important step—it sets up Redwood harbor as an ocean port for the first time in the 50 years of history relating to Redwood creek.

It is understood that from the findings of the district engineer, who conducted the hearing in Redwood City recently, and made the intensive study of the case, that the original request of the harbor committee was justified. This request in substance was as follows: That the government assume all channel and turning basin costs against the cost to the district of constructing suitable wharves, transit sheds and warehousing facilities. Inasmuch as the cost of docks and other shore facilities would run from two to three times the cost of the channel work, it was felt that this was a very fair proposition, and the district engineer so found and recommended. The division engineer has modified this recommendation, asking that the district pay one-half of the cost of the channel and turning basin dredging, and that the size of the turning basin be cut considerably.

This recommendation is not necessarily binding upon the rivers and harbors' board at Washington. It may sustain the district engineer's recommendation, or a further hearing may be asked on behalf of the Citizens' Harbor Committee at Washington, should it request that the district engineer's recommendations be sustained by the full harbor board. This additional hearing before the harbor board at Washington may be asked, providing further consideration shows that it probably would be justified.

In the case of the Richmond harbor, the government paid all channel and turning basin costs, and this is also true at Monterey, where a very expensive breakwater had to be built. In the Monterey case the report of the division engineer required the community to share a large part of the cost. A further hearing before the board at Washington was requested, and that hearing resulted in a victory for Monterey.

The local harbor committee has unofficially stated that it would communicate with Congressman Free and other interested parties, including the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and then decide whether to ask for a further hearing.

H. W. Crozier, San Francisco engineer who made the survey on which Redwood City's latest attempt for recognition as a deep water port was based, also received a telegram from Congressman Free today, similar to that received by Mayor Stafford.

Crozier was optimistic over the news from Washington, and called attention to the fact that, whereas Redwood City was called upon to provide a wharf adequate to care for 125,000 tons of commerce yearly, San Jose was asked to provide facilities for a million tons.

The 27-foot channel recommended, he said, means 29 feet, as there is an allowance of that extra depth made.

300 Men Seek Work At City Headquarters

Three hundred men and 60 women have registered for work at the mayor's employment relief office since its establishment, Mayor Daniel Stafford reports. At the present time, seven men are being given three days or work each. Jobs are distributed so as to aid as many as possible.

The committee announces that several unemployed men have wood for sale. Information may be obtained by telephoning the mayor's office, Redwood 179.

Monday night at 7:30 there will be a meeting of the unemployment committee at the city hall. Reports of activities to date are to be made, and a financial report is also to be read.

'HERMIT'S' SISTER WILLS HER ESTATE

Miss Elizabeth McDonald, aged sister of John McDonald, late "Hermit of the Butano," left her $15,000 share of her brother's estate to four Canadians, her will on file in Redwood City today reveals.

The $15,000 represents half of McDonald's estate, which she won in Superior Judge George H. Buck's court after a will contest, dividing the estate with Henry Hebring, McDonald's life-long friend.

McDonald burned to death in a fire which swept his forest cabin in 1928.

CHRISTMAS SEAL IS 25 YRS. OLD

A design picturing the holiday festivity of "the good old days" was selected for the Christmas seal of 1931 to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the sale of seals to fight tuberculosis. An old-time stage coach is shown drawn by four horses prancing through the snow. Aloft on the upper deck a passenger blows his horn to blazon Christmas greetings to the countryside on 40,000 stamps mailed out to San Mateo county residents.

Twenty-five seals, each with different design, have been sold to the public at the holiday season since the organized tuberculosis movement got under way, according to a statement of the San Mateo County Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. The statement said:

"From small beginnings at a time when everybody believed tuberculosis was hereditary and the equivalent of a death sentence, it has carried its message that tuberculosis is preventable and curable to every hamlet and crossroads in the country, until today few people remain who do not know that rest, fresh air, sunshine and nourishing food are both the preventive and curative agents for this disease.

"But a great deal remains to be done. Despite the success of past efforts, tuberculosis is still a greater public enemy than most people realize. It is the leading cause of death between the ages of 15 and 45, and a serious menace to the health of young men and women entering intensive high school and college work."

A 12-year study course will be offered in a school for deaf in California.

HARBOR GROUP PLANS REPORT TO CO. BOARD

Significance Of R. C. Harbor To Peninsula Will Be Shown

When the San Mateo county supervisors meet at 8 p. m. Friday, December 18, to hear of the progress being made on the Redwood City deep water harbor project, F. T. Letchfield, San Francisco banker and industrial expert, will assist in presenting the evidence.

Letchfield has made a study of the local situation for a period of years, and was spokesman for Redwood City at the government hearing several months ago.

William H. Crawford, director of the industrial department for the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, will also speak.

Carl Wagner will represent the Redwood City Citizens' Harbor Development Committee, which met at the city hall yesterday afternoon with Chairman Carl Stoner presiding to plan for the joint meeting with the supervisors.

The object of the meeting on the 18th, according to Howard Wood, manager of the local chamber, is to acquaint the supervisors with the county-wide significance of Redwood City's deep water harbor plans. County-wide support will be solicited.

Hurried Steps Pound Bridge To Its Doom

Council Decides Old Structure Must Be Razed

Brisk steps of business men and stenographers to make the 7:20, and the heavier homeward plodding from the 5:15 have apparently doomed the old footbridge at the westerly end of James avenue.

With no word from the Southern Pacific that it is willing to pay half of the $150 needed to repair the old structure, the city council Monday virtually decided to raze the bridge. The city's "unsafe" and "no trespassing" signs did no good—users of the bridge merely ripped them off.

In order to save the city from a possible damage suit, the city council Monday asked City Engineer Charles Dimmitt to remove the bridge before it collapses. The city will also fence off the end of James avenue to give motorists warning that the street terminates there.

PLANNERS DISCUSS COUNTY ORDINANCE FOR SUBDIVISIONS

Provisional approval was given by the San Mateo County Planing Commission Tuesday to a proposed ordinance for the regulation of subdivisions throughout the county, both outside and inside municipalities.

The commission held a three-hour round table session Tuesday morning at the fire house auditorium in Redwood City with Hugh Pomeroy, commission adviser, and approximately 20 representatives of cities of the county. A few modifications were made in the ordinance as originally drawn by Pomeroy.

After a second discussion to be held at a later date and final approval by the commission, the commission, the ordinance will be submitted to the county board of supervisors for action.

The proposed ordinance would require preliminary maps of all subdivisions, showing such public facilities as streets, lights, gas, water and sewage disposal connections, to be filed with the planning commission. Any desired changes would be noted on the map, and the definite approval would be given by the commission upon the filing of a final map.

The ordinance is designed to eliminate the ills of haphazard subdividing.

BELMONT WATER DISTRICT SHOWS PROFIT FOR YEAR

BELMONT. — Net revenue of $1974.39 was shown in the audit of the books of the Belmont County Water District for the year ending September 30, according to a report filed with the water commissioners here Tuesday by Hood & Strong, certified public accountants.

Assets and liabilities were shown to be $23,130.21.

Auditor Vernon P. Irvin read the report to the district commissioners. It was requested by 25 property owners, who asked an accounting of the district's finances.

City Health Officer S. M. St. John reported that the complaint of a San Francisco woman that the water tasted bitter and was unfit to drink had been investigated, and conditions were corrected.

George C. De Golyer, Oakland contractor, submitted bids of $1975 for an eight-inch line, and $2475 for a 10-inch line on the proposed installation from the Old County road to Schmall street. The bids were taken under advisement while it is determined whether to carry through the project.

George A. Kneese, city engineer, presented a report giving the valuations of present installations to guide the commission in the event of replacements, which was as follows: Belle Monti line, $30,047.50; Bay View line, $14,020; St. George line, $395.50; San Francisco line, $2225, and Brookhaven line, $1395. The city's system was shown to have an investment of $51,083 in pipes, tanks and pumps.

SEA GIVES UP BODY OF MAN ON COASTSIDE

Coroner Hits Belief Mas Was Murdered In Rum Fight

In spite of the absence of the two hands of the corpse, Coroner J. C. McGovern of San Mateo county believes that the man whose body was found in the Pacific ocean off the northern San Mateo county coast late Wednesday had taken his own life and was not the victim of a "murderous rum-running ring."

The coroner said he believed it was a case of suicide, and that the man either jumped into the surf and drowned, or jumped off a passing steamer. The body had been in the water two weeks or more and recognition was impossible.

Some barely distinguishable laundry marks and a latch key were the only possible clues which had been uncovered with which to make an identification.

The body was the second found on the coast at the same spot within the past two weeks. The other remains unidentified.

The dead man was well-clothed in a blue serge suit with pin stripe, black shoes, blue shirt and sweater jacket.

KINSMAN OF LOCAL MEN DIES, OAKLAND

Mr. McIntyre leaves a son, two brothers and one sister. His wife died two week ago. Another sister, Mrs. Margaret A. Olsen, died about two weeks ago. The latter was a sister-in-law of Mr. Liguori, she being the first wife of Joseph Liguori, formerly of Redwood City and who passed away some years ago. The widow later married Mr Olsen.

Mr. McIntyre was a native of California and was 73 years of age. He was a member of Porterville lodge of Masons. Funeral services were held Thursday and were private.

HOLIDAY POSTER URGES OBEDIENCE TO SAFETY RULES

With a multitude of school children about to leave their classrooms for the Christmas holiday period, the December poster and safety lesson material distributed by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association sound a timely note of caution. The poster conveys a Christmas greeting to children and urges them to remember their safety lessons. The lesson advises care in the use of skates, scooters, bicycles, and other wheeled Christmas gifts on the streets and highways, "where a moment's carelessness may turn Christmas joy into sadness."

The lesson presents a review of the principal causes of traffic accidents to children, listing them as follows:

Running into street.
Running from between parked cars.
Crossing in middle of block.
Crossing improperly at intersections.
Hitching on vehicles.
Playing in street.
Chasing ball or dog into street.
Riding bicycles or scooters in street.
Roller skating in street or too fast on sidewalk.

Copies of the poster and lesson material have been distributed by the Association Public Safety Department to more than 13,000 classrooms in northern and central California.

COUNCIL ACTS TO SAFEGUARD BUSINESS MEN

Refuses To Waive Fee Guarantee On New Enterprises

Giving first consideration to existing businesses, the city council Monday refused to waive the $100 deposit required of new merchants to guarantee payment of city business licenses.

The specific purpose of the new business ordinance, it was pointed out, was to halt "fly by night" merchants who come into the city especially during the Christmas holidays and who dispose of bankrupt and other stocks at cut-rate prices and then move out, leaving the local merchants as a whole to suffer.

While the request for waiving of the license was not for this type of concern, the specific request being to re-open a bakery which recently closed down, the council expressed a belief that if the deposit is waived in one case that other requests would be made and that the purpose of the ordinance would then be defeated.

Julius Smith, local realtor, made the appeal to the council. He said the party which plans to open the bakery would be willing to put up the first six months business license, which would be considerably under the $100 deposit, but wishes to waive payment of this latter sum.

Councilman Charles Lambert said "if he has a good thing, $100 won't stop him," since this money will be refunded at the end of six months, when the business becomes classed as "permanent."

Lambert, Councilman George McNulty and Councilman William Dusel all agreed that there is nothing to stop a person from opening a legitimate business under a waived deposit, but who would within a few months go into a cut-rate competition if the business threatened to fail.

Councilman Paul McCarthy, after some debate, moved that the council accept the six months license fee so that the city would be protected and that the deposit be waived in this instance, because "a bakery can't conduct 'phoney' sales."

Councilman Henry Beeger seconded the motion, but the proposal to waive the deposit was roundly voiced down.

6TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT FOR CO. CREATED

Burlingame Wins In Its Demand For J. P. Court

North Burlingame had won its fight to secure a justice of the peace as requested in a letter from the Broadway Development Association, when the board of San Mateo County Supervisors, meeting in Redwood City Monday, agreed to create a sixth judicial township.

It will include all of the present fifth supervisorial district of Dr. C. V. Thompson, Burlingame supervisor, which embraces the city of Burlingame, Millbrae and other unincorporated area up to the line of Supervisor T. L. Hickey's South San Francisco district.

Creation of the new district gives the coastside two justices, San Mateo two, Burlingame one, Redwood City one, and South San Francisco two.

District Attorney Edmund Scott was instructed to prepare an ordinance creating the new justiceship upon motion of Dr. Thompson, seconded by Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown, San Mateo.

$2,000,000 PLAN FOR HOTEL-AP'TS OFFERED IN S. M.

Suites Would Range In Cost From $1000 Monthly

SAN MATEO. — Plans for an apartment-hotel project worth $2,000,000 were described by Jean de St. Cyr, Hillsborough millionaire and clubman, before the planning commission Wednesday.

De St. Cyr asks the commission to rezone 12 acres of his 30-acre estate, which is now in the first residential class, to the apartment house class. He said that a high type of apartment house, with suites renting from $1,000 to $1,500 per month, and costing $1,500,000, would be built. Eighty per cent of the building can be leased at once, and a contract has been drawn for construction to start January 15, if the zone change can be effected. It would be a six-story building in Italian renaissance architecture, with 22 apartments. The location is near Baywood avenue, 400 feet from El Camino Real.

The hotel would be near El Cerrito avenue. The commission wants written assurance from De St. Cyr that the hotel plans conform to the general scheme. The commission was promised such assurance.

Two objections from home owners in the vicinity of the project were heard. They came from Samuel Kahn and Dr. H. Hart.

PUBLIC PARK OFFERED TO MENLO PARK

Council Considers Confusion Over House Numbers

MENLO PARK. — The gratuitous offer by Mrs. R. L. Moore of several acres of land on Valparaiso avenue near San Mateo drive to the city for a public park was reported to members of the city council Tuesday by Mayor W. H. Weeden.

City Attorney George K. Whitworth was directed by the council to investigate the reported offer and learn its conditions and the possibilities of the land.

Because of bad weather conditions, an extension to March 1 of the time for completing the improvement contracts on the Live Oak avenue, Doyle street and Johnson street jobs was ordered by the council. The actual work, it was asserted, would be completed rapidly in the event of good weather, but sufficient time was asked to cover the period until the approval of warrants for payment of the jobs. The contractors are the Valley Paving and Construction Company and Clyde W. Wood.

City Engineer Bert J. Mehl was authorized to spend $50 in spreading rock and gravel on holes next to the curb on Laurel, Mills and Glenwood avenues and to fill chuckholes on other streets.

The councilmen discussed extensively the present confusion in house numbers throughout portions of the city.

Chief of Police Frank Love reported $32 from motor vehicle act fines, $120 from other fines and $194 in business licenses collected during the past month.

A communication from Lenore R. Williams protested the amount of the weed abatement tax on her property in Paraiso Park. A letter from Alfred R. Masters, general manager of the Stanford Board of Athletic Control, expressed his appreciation of the cooperation given by the Menlo Park police in handling the heavy traffic to the Big Game on November 21.

The council passed a resolution of sympathy in the death of Thomas Reynolds, long-time Menlo Park resident.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday to consider Live Oak avenue lighting.

Freeman was a guest in Cooper's automobile, which struck a pole in failing to negotiate the sharp turn where the two roads come together. He suffered a break of the pelvic bone and other injuries, for which he asked $50,000. Edna E. Whitten was foreman of the jury. The case was heard before Superior Judge George H. Buck.

GAY ADVENTURERS

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

Chapter 66
SUSPICION

During the evening that he spent at the Villa Mora Harry's mind was busy with disturbing thoughts. He hated himself for his suspicions, but he couldn't banish them. Several times he saw Sheila watching him in a covert, worried fashion, and he felt that she could almost read his thoughts.

Was she in love with this young doctor? What other explanation could there be for her conduct? And why did they always give the impression of sharing some important secret? One never came upon them that they did not act as if they had been interrupted in the midst of some terribly vital discussion.

It was all very puzzling, and Harry wished he dared ask for a frank explanation. "But suppose I go to Constance and beg her to tell me the truth, and she says she is in love with Baxter?" he fretted. "What then?"

For that question he had no answer. At least, he couldn't bear to face the answer. But was it better to go on this way, not knowing where one stood, or what might happen?

Altogether, Harry put in a most miserable evening. Every now and then, he realized that some one was speaking to him, and he would blink and apologize for his abstraction, and then begin herding his own unhappy thoughts once more. He did so badly at cards that the Baronne put him down in her black books forever. His protestations of regret got him nowhere at all, and his offer to cover her losses was accepted without thanks.

"That's the very least that you can do," she grated. "But I expect my partner to increase my winnings, not merely to pay for his own blunders."

The Count was not slow to see that Harry was distraint, and he thought he could guess the reason. He was feeling rather mellow, now that he thought he could see the end of this trying situation, and he was inclined to be sorry for Harry. After all, it would be a terrible blow to the poor chap to learn that Constance had been married months ago.

"What makes you so gloomy, Edmonds?" he asked, after Harry had withdrawn from the card game in disgrace. There was a patronizing note in his voice that made Harry furious. "You have seemed buried in thought all evening," the Court went on. "By the way, I was asking you, when Constance came into the room, whether you knew an American girl named Allen. I saw her the other day with our friend, the doctor. She seems to live in a little pension—"

Harry jerked out his watch and muttered something about having been up late for three nights and needing sleep. Leaving Bellefonte in the midst of a sentence, he crossed the drawing-room and said his farewells to his hostess and Sheila. He wanted to be alone to think this thing out.

His memory carried him back to the night when Sheila had come to his hotel to beg him not to fight a duel with the Count — when she had grown hysterical, because he was deaf to her plea, and had protested that she was not Constance Kerr, but some one who was impersonating her. Sheila Allen! That was the name she had given! And now the Count claimed to have seen Dr. Baxter with a girl named Allen. And he himself had seen the doctor and Constance—or was it Sheila?—that very afternoon in the garden of the little house.

Harry put his hands to his head and groaned. Where would all this lead? He felt that he was caught in a network of subterfuge, and that he couldn't escape.

"I must be crazy," he sighed. "We decided, all three of us, that she was not herself, that she was telling us a story that was utterly without basis. Still, if there is a girl named Sheila Allen right here, and if Constance and this doctor are seen—"

He paced the floor, his thoughts in a tormented tangle. Morning found him sleepless, fagged. For the first time, anxiety that no effort of will could allay had possession of him. He felt that he must solve this mystery, and yet he was afraid to attack it.

Presently he found himself walking in the direction of the little pension. He had no idea as to what he would do when he got there. He couldn't ring the bell and pour out his suspicions and fears to the person who answered the door. And spying was adhorrent to him.

Slowly he passed the pleasant little house and peered into the garden. No one about except a servant. He couldn't bring himself to question her. But somewhere within those walls was the answer to the question that plagued him.

He reached the end of the street, then turned and retraced his steps. "I'll go back to the hotel and have breakfast like a sensible person," he thought. "It's ridiculous to let a—"

Suddenly he saw a familiar figure approaching. Count had emerged from his doorway and was walking rapidly toward the pension. Harry stepped into a garden gateway and waited, hoping that he could escape unnoticed. But the Count walked past the house and stepped almost in front of his hiding place.

Each waited for the other to speak. Finally the Count smiled knowingly and said: "And what is your interest in this quaint little spot?"

"I might ask you the same question," replied Harry, "but instead, I'll ask you whether you'll let me give you a lift in my cab. I was about to call one and go back to my hotel for breakfast . . . No? Sorry. Good-bye."

Here was a new worry. What did the Count suspect? Why was he in this neighborhood. Harry decided that something must be done before they all found themselves in the midst of a scandal. He went back to his hotel and scribbled a note to Sheila, saying that he would be away for a day or two. Then he took the first train north. His destination was Baden-Baden.

S. M. DENTIST WINS IN GIRL'S LAWSUIT

No damages were allowed Miss Lillian Wollett in her $51,500 damage suit against Dr. Cecil R. Smith, Burlingame dentist, for personal injuries incurred by her in an automobile accident between Merced and Yosemite Park, December 14, 1930.

Judge George H. Buck presided at the trial in Redwood City superior court Wednesday. Miss Wollett claimed that she incurred several scars on the face and throat as a result of the mishap.

Woodside

The Portola and Woodside schools are preparing programs of entertainment to feature the closing of the schools on December 18. The Portola program will be given at the school on the evening of the 17th, and will mark the culmination of their study of the cities of the world with the children dressed in the costumes of all nations. The Woodside program will be given on Friday evening at the school auditorium and will consist of music under the direction of Mrs. Helen Huebner and of a play written as well as presented by the pupils of the primary grades, featuring life in Holland, the original home of St. Nicholas. A Christmas tree will be decorated and loaded by the joint efforts of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Fire Department.

The Woodside Girl Scouts have been invited to a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Willis Patterson, one of the Scout leaders, on the afternoon of December 22.

Rev. Benjamin St. John, pastor of the Woodside church, celebrated his 84th birthday on Thursday of this week. It is the hope of his many friends here that he may celebrate many more birthdays in our midst.

Billy Swinnerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Swinnerton, will be home from the Thatcher School in the Ojai Valley for the Christmas holidays, with his family

Chief of Longview, one of the greatest show horses in the country, and the winner of many first prizes during the past few years, has been very ill with pneumonia, at the Roth stables here, but is now thought to be on the way of recovery. The Chief and his four sons proved the most popular group of thoroughbreds at the National Horse Show at Menlo Park this summer.

For several years the Woodside P.-T. A. has held a bazaar each December. This year the bazaar was omitted but the card party and apron sale at the school auditorium on Friday night, proved a successful and enjoyable substitute.

Mrs. James V. Neuman, Mrs. Leland John, Mrs. Otis Dudley, Mrs. Willis Patterson and Mrs. John D. Gish met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. D. B. Ralston, at her home in the Glens, to fabricate the aprons for the occasion. Many others were donated by members of the association and a huge grab-bag, loaded with prizes, added excitement to the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Charlotte Cadwallader spent the week-end at her newly completed home on Albion avenue.

Edward L. Beck is improving his property on the Canyada Road, preparatory to building his home there. Roads have been built, a family orchard is being planted and a fine collection of native shrubs have been brought from the hills and grouped to form the background to the new house.

Roadmaster Frank Johnson is optimistic. He still believes that we shall have a wet winter, and the Woodside highways are being prepared for that contingency. Culverts are being cleaned, ditches being opened, and drain courses dug. So—let it rain.

Mr. C. Osborn of Fresno, brother of Mrs. Lucien Moyen, and his family, will be guests of the Moyners over the holidays.

Menlo Park

The resignation of M. A. Harris, as a member of the Menlo Park Fire Department, is to be regretted as he was an active member always taking a deep interest in the affairs of the department. Mr. Harris is a public-spirited citizen, who has given a great deal of his valuable time to the upbuilding of the community. Men like Mr. Harris are an asset to any community. Mr. Whipple, who recently purchased the Clunie property in Stanford Park, was appointed last Monday by Supervisor Poole, to fill the vacancy.

M. F. O'Dea, owner of twenty acres of land on the highway, close to town, and the Lyncher property in Redwood City, met with a serious accident on Thanksgiving at Los Angeles, his home. O'Dea in crossing a street, was run over by a passing automobile, suffering a fracture of both legs and a fracture of the right arm. Although the shock was a severe one, he will recover, despite his age and infirmities. He is 76 years old. He is a millionaire, and some years ago began investing in peninsula property. North Fair Oaks subdivision was among the first possessions he had in the county. O'Dea is a shrewd real estate buyer, always selling his holdings at a big profit.

The city council met in regular session Tuesday evening. All members being present with the exception of Blake.

A letter was read from Alfred R. Masters, president of the Stanford Athletic Control, commending the efficiency of the Menlo Park police department in handling the big traffic jam at the football game last month. The letter was ordered filed. Chief Love, who heard the letter read, wore a broad smile for the remainder of the evening.

C. W. Wood and the Valley Paving and Construction Co., were given until March 1st, 1932, to complete their contracts for street work now under construction, under resolutions 31-6, 31-7 and 9.

A protest was read from Leonora R. Williams, against the payment of a claim for $30.80, for burning grass by the city on her lots on Johnson street. She asserted that the assessment of last year for the same work was $13. The letter was referred to the superintendent of streets for adjustment.

The claim of Mrs. J. Snetcher for the destruction of certain shrubbery on her property on Arbor avenue, caused by the city in burning grass nearby, and which was referred to the superintendent of streets at the last meeting, was denied on the report of the city engineer, who repored that the trees died from want of water.

Police Commissioner Crane presented the report of the chief of police for the month of November, which was as follows: Motor vehicle violations, $32; other violations, $120; licenses collected, $194, making a total of $346.

Mayor Weeden announced, through Mrs. Devol, that Mrs. Robert Moore was desirous of offering between three and four acres of land on Valparaiso avenue, to the city for a public park. The offer was referred to City Attorney George Whitworth to make the necessary investigation. All the members expressed their appreciation for the kind offer of Mrs. Moore, who owns a palatial home across the street from the proposed park site.

Mayor Weeden announced that he had been informed, over the telephone, that the Standard Oil company was about to purchase the Maloney block on the corner of Oak Grove avenue and the highway, for an oil station. His informant desired to know is the council would have any objections to establishing the station. The city attorney said there could be no possibfle opposition to the enterprise if the building laws were complied with.

The council agreed to meet on Tuesday evening, next, to consider the lighting of Live Oak avenue.

City Attorney Withworth presented an ordinance, for the first reading, amending the zoning ordinance in accordance with the report of the planning commission.

City Engineer Mehl was granted permission to place gravel on street shoulders on Laurel, Glenwood, Mills and Oak Grove avenues, to fill chuck holes, the same to cost no more than $50.

The matter of house numbering was discussed at some length by the council and finally the subject was referred to the city engineer to report at the next meeting.

The council adjourned out of respect of Thomas Reynolds, a Menlo Park pioneer. An adjournment was taken to December 15.

Miss May Hannigan, widely known here, is seriously ill at Providence hospital, Oakland. For several days she had been unconscious but has now regained her senses and is improving, although not yet passed the danger stage. The young lady spent some years here with her brother, the late Rev. Jerome B. Hannigan, when he was pastor of the Church of the Nativity.

On Tuesday, December 8, Judge Jean Hoss united in marriage Everett Wesley Bastian, age 21, San Jose, and Eva Rabello, age 19, Santa Clara. The genial judge tied the nuptial knot firm and strong, but failed to enjoy his preropative of kissing the pretty bride.

The Toyon Motor company has leased the Depot Garage, recently vacated by Mr. Collins. The company, for a number of years, has operated on the highway.

The quail season closes next Tuesday after a successful period of one month. The birds are quite plentiful on the foot hills but scarce in the valley region. Several good bags were brought to town during the short season.

The large covey of quail in the city limits, was not disturbed by the small boy or anyone else. The watchfulness of the police department prevented this.

Mark Loughlin has been transferred to the Southern Pacific station at Palo Alto from San Mateo, where he has been employed by the Southern Pacific since leaving the local station. Mark does not like the ten per cent cut in his wages, but he smiles and says it could be worse.

Vincent Rogers, young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rogers, was married to Miss Margaret Carter of Downey, on Thanksgiving Day, at Santa Barbara. The couple will reside at Los Angeles. The groom is employed by the Standard Stations, Inc., in the Downey district.

The funeral rites of Thomas Reynolds, who died after an illness of a year, late Saturday evening, last, were held at the Church of the Nativity, Tuesday morning. Many relatives and friends followed the remains to Holy Cross cemetery for interment.

Born in Ireland 78 years ago, Reynolds came to Boston, Mass., where his youth was spent. In the early 80's Reynolds arrived in Menlo Park, passing almost the remainder of his long life here. For many years he was employed at the Flood estate and later took charge of the Hopkins holdings.

After his marriage Reynolds went to Reno to superintend the large estate of Senator Newlands, one of the show places of the Battle Born state. When the senator died Reynolds returned to Menlo Park. He was a hard working and industrious man, who labored for his family. His burdens were many but he bore them bravely to the end, never shirking in his duty to his family and to his many friends. Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, three of whom are dead. He is survived by his good wife and three boys and three girls.

Mrs. John B. Glunz entertained the Menlo Park Woman's Club this week. Twelve members were present. Two new department chairmen were elected—Miss Stella Ely, press, and Mrs. J. L. Ewers, music.

Mrs. Fannie I. Kurtz, reported that Thanksgiving dinners had been provided for two needy families out of money provided by the club, that the proceeds from the club's October card party had been turned over to the unemployment relief committee, and that $5 was voted to the Veterans' Administration Hospital Christmas fund.

Plans were made for a play to raise funds for philanthropic work.

A short program was given, including excerpts from the Federation News and a reading by Mrs. Edward Gardener from Kate Douglas Wiggins' "Bird's Christmas Carol."

Supervisor John Poole has begun the reconstruction of the sheds that burned last Saturday night, at the corporation yard of the Third Township, on Mills avenue. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The loss was over $5000, covered by insurance.

The Ford dump truck was completely destroyed. The White dump truck was damaged to the extent of $1000, while the tractor suffered a loss of $500. The water wagon was slightly damaged. All the small tools were destroyed.

A peculiar incident about the fire was that the large gasoline tank on the White truck did not explode, although there was a blaze all around it. The machine is valued at $4800. Had the explosion taken place the truck would have been a total loss.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE

Right after the first of the year the Republican County Committee will meet to adopt resolutions endorsing Senator Samuel M. Shortridge in his campaign for re-election. The resolutions are to set forth the good work he has done in the senate for the State of California. He will be lauded for his loyalty to the Republican Party and his fealty to the administration and his splendid support of that great leader, Herbert Hoover.

A meeting was called by Joseph Knowland, editor of the Oakland Tribune, at the Palace Hotel recently, to prepare plans for the Shortridge campaign next year. Many friends of the senator took part in the proceeding, all pledging their earnest support to the brilliant senator. Mr. Knowland has been selected to manage the campaign for Shortridge. No better man could have been selected for this work. He is a political leader and an experienced campaigner and an organizer of ability and tact.

Mr. Shortridge deserves well at the hands of the people of California for whom he has labored unceasingly. The state has received numerous favors as the result of his efforts at Washington and the people are going to keep him there. His vote next year should be overwhelming.

The following comment by J. Emmett Olmstead, political sage of Petaluma will be of particular interest to the people of Senator Shortridge's home county:

"A concerted effort upon the part of the Progressive wing of the Republican party to defeat Senator Samuel M. Shortridge at next year's elections has come to light. At a recent conference, held at Los Angeles, the Progressives wrapped Congressman Joe Crail up in moth balls and laid him upon their political shelf, deciding to center their efforts behind the candidacy of Congressman Swing, close friend and associate of Senator Hiram W. Johnson.

"If their political strategy works, they confidently assert, Swing will walk home a winner. But political strategy does not always work out. Anyway, here is the way the Progressives hope the campaign will develop: There are three candidates in the field as this is written, Congressman Swing and Congressman Crail in the south, and Senator Shortridge in the north. Should no other candidates appear, the election of Shortridge would be almost a certainty. But the Progressives will see to it that at least one other candidate enters the list. Report has it that Swing, before he announced his candidacy at the Los Angeles conference, was assured that State Senator Tallant Tubbs of San Francisco would become a candidate also that Leo Youngworth, a well-known and popular southland political figure, might be persuaded to seek the Republican nomination.

"The Progressives figure that if Tubbs becomes a candidate he will run on a 'dripping' wet platform, greatly reducing the strength of Senator Shortridge in the north, and that Youngworth, who has always trained with the old-line Republicans, will further weaken the Shortridge candidacy by drawing votes, particularly in the south, that otherwise would go to the incumbent senator. Crail, the Progressives assert, will be merely an 'also-ran.' It must be conceded that the Progressives are pretty smart, and that if the plans they have laid work out, they have a fighting chance to elect Swing.

"However, the Swing-Johnson crowd is banking too heavily upon the vote-getting ability of Tallant Tubbs, who astonished everybody by the number of votes he received at the last state election when he ran for lieutenant-governor. As a candidate for United States senator, Tubbs would not be a vote-getter he was in the lieutenant-governorship race, even though he based his candidacy on opposition to the eighteenth amendment. The voters are quick to note and rebuke politicians who attempt to trick them by putting the names of stalking-horse candidates upon the ballot, with the purpose of obscuring the real issues.

"Five years ago, it will be remembered, the Progressives of the state, by and with the active participation of none other than Hiram W. Johnson, fought vainly to defeat Senator Shortridge for re-election. They failed then—they will fail in 1932. The people of California will not be hoodwinked by political trickery and deceitful practices. They recognize in Senator Shortridge a faithful and capable servant, and they will return him to office with an overwhelming vote of confidence."

DON'T EVADE CIVIC DUTIES

It's rather astonishing that the average citizen who responds promptly to community service neglects to exercise his franchise at the polls, and tries to escape jury duty. Both are important contributions to public and community service, both entail civic responsibility that should not be evaded. "It is impossible to get better government locally if only 5 per cent of the electorate participate in civic affairs' only two months of the year," remarks a prominent official. Quite so! It explains the reason for the many impositions communities stagger under today. They let the small minority "put things over" because they are too busy or too indifferent to use the means given them under the constitution to register their desires and opinions. It's a lot easier to use one's vote to prevent the enactment of unfair and unjust measures than it is to wipe them off the statutes after they've become the law. The obligation is yours. If you don't want more bond issues with consequent increased taxes; if you don't like proposed laws, register your objection by your ballot when it will do some good.—San Jose Mercury-Herald.

WON'T JOIN AL

TACOMA, Wash.—Since Al Capone's sentence on income tax charges, many people have been bothered with visions of grim prison walls. A local business man, his face ashen gray, walked into the internal revenue offices recently and confessed to the collector that he had been cheating the government on his income tax for five years. Investigation showed he had defaulted to the amount of $80, which he gladly paid with a smile.

OFF AND ON AGAIN

MILWAUKEE.—One of the Milwaukee railroad's largest locomotives was derailed here when it attempted to switch around a freight derailment. All of the engine's driving wheels left the rails and were near sliding off a turntable. While another engine was on the way to help it back on the tracks, the engineer of the derailed locomotive took a chance. He spun the wheels of the huge steed and it sprang back on the rails.

TOPNOTCHERS by KET

POP'S COLUMN

Here we go on the very last month of this year. It is just perfectly scandalous the way time flies around here lately! Trying to make old folks out of a lot of us young fellers! 'Tain't right!

"General" Jake Coxey, who organized and led "Coxey's Army" 37 years ago, now, at the age of 77, has been elected mayor of his home town, Massilion, O. Wouldn't you just love to live in a town that would elect a man like that mayor?

The general of the Chinese army tells his officers that they are all right so long as they don't lose their heads.

The secret is out at last. We now know why Dino Grandi, the eminent Italian statesman, came over here this time. 'Tis like this: In 1925 he was the Italian minister to Washington, and one day, in a fit of prodigality, he threw a penny into the Potomac river. He came back to get it. Did I say he was Italian? I mean Scotch.

Do you think the people in Russia are having a good time? Would you like to go there to live? Read here an excerpt from an article recently printed in Nation's Business by Col. Clarence T. Starr, who has lived there and knows what he is talking about:

"If an American miner wants to go to church he may do so. If he wishes to say what his children shall study, he may do so, within certain limits. If he wishes to criticize the politicians, he may do so. If he wishes to visit his brother-in-law in Cleveland he may do so. If he wishes to borrow money he may do so. If he wishes to buy a house he may do so. If he wishes to rent out his front room he may do so. If he wishes to open a grocery store or an ice cream soda fountain in his front parlor, he may do so.

"In Russia none of these things could be done. The Russian worker does not worry much, perhaps, because he cannot do any of these things, but that is because he is not aware that such things are going on anywhere in the world.

"If the Russians, or the Czechs, or the Greeks in any city or locality in America wish to give voice to their opinions, they can start a newspaper. In Russia nobody can. There censorship is absolute. Opinions are simply not tolerated, and truth is only in bolshevik ideals. All speeches—and they are countless—are propaganda. Even movies are planned to make the worker more patriotic. The thoughts for the masses are given to them in predigested form. All are conformists, or they starve.

"The people apparently accept the existing regime. I would say they are loyal to it were it not for the fact that my observations have led me to believe that loyalty as we understand it is absent from the Russian nation, or else, under present conditions, the Russian finds it more advantageous to play his own hand. The people do love Russia, however, with a deep and touching affection. The authorities know this and make use of it frequently. The merest suggestion that invasion is imminent is enough to stir the average Russian man or woman to harder work."

"Kennst du das land wo die citronen bluhen,
Im dunkeln laub die gold-orangen gluhn,
Ein sanfter wind vom blauen Himmel weht,
Die myrte still und hoch der Lorbeer steht?
Dahin! Dahin!
Mocht ich mit dir, O mein geliebter, ziehn."

Many a bad joke has lost a good friend.

On March 9, 1748, Lord Chesterfield wrote to his son:

"Having mentioned laughing, I must particularly warn you against it; and I could heartily wish that you often be seen to smile, but never heard to laugh while you live. Frequent and loud laughter is the characteristic of folly and ill manners: It is the manner in which the mob express their silly joy at silly things, and they call it being merry. In my mind there is nothing so illiberal and so ill-bred as audible laughter."

I'll bet Lord Chesterfield never saw a fat man step on a banana skin.

You have been asked many times, I'll warrant, to explain the difference between law and equity. You had the divil's own time trying to do it, too. Well, now I've just run across this definition, and it isn't like any I ever saw before:

"Equity is a roguish thing: For law we have a measure, know what to trust to; equity is according to the conscience of him that is chancellor, and as that is larger or narrower, so is equity. 'Tis all one as if they should make the standard for the measure we call a foot, a chancellor's foot; what an uncertain measure this would be! One chancellor has a long foot, another a short foot, a third an indifferent foot. 'Tis the same in the chancellor's conscience."

Lies are always young; none ever lives to be old.

"Learn to live well, or fairly make your will;
You've play'd, and loved, and ate, and drank your fill;
Walk sober off, before a sprightlier age
Comes tittering on, and shoves you from the stage:
Leave such to trifle with more grace and ease,
Whom folly pleases, and whose follies please."

"The devil's in the moon for mischief; they
Who call'd her chaste, methinks, began too soon
Their nomenclature: there is not a day,
The longest, not the twenty-first of June,
Sees half the business in a wicked way,
On which three single hours of moonshine smile—
And then she looks so modest all the while!"

Hoping these few lines may find you all the same.

UP AND DOWN THE STATE

AMBULANCE CAN NOW CROSS LINE

When an ambulance is needed every minute's delay in its coming may be vital. Prolonged delay has meant death to injured persons who might have lived if given immediate aid. Of course death may ensue from accident despite the quick arrival of an ambulance. There is always a chance, however, that the ambulance may save.

Whether the speedy arrival of an ambulance would have saved the lives of two women pinned under the wreck of an automobile in Northern San Mateo may be a matter of doubt. The fact remains that no ambulance reached the wreck for an hour. Just that long was help delayed by a conflict of authority involving territory. The rule that San Francisco hospital ambulances, the nearest, could not cross the county line was adhered to strictly, perhaps too strictly.

The Board of Health now has authorized the city's emergency hospitals to send ambulances "a reasonable distance" out of the city. This means the county line will no longer be a barrier to quick succor. Possibly it never should have been.—San Francisco Chronicle.

AS BOSTON SAW IT

How a football team, invading the East, may serve in the cause of promoting good feeling and sportsmanship, is brought out by Boston comment on the recent battle between Stanford and Dartmouth.

Says the Boston Transcript, speaking of "Pop" Warner's agile and expert team: "Here was a team that could lick you and make you like it. . . . The thoughts all ran in the same channels. Everyone said, 'Wasn't Stanford great?'" Yes, indeed, Stanford was magnificent. You had to admire the infectuous spirit of the Stanford boys. They were gentlemen. They were modest. They weren't hard-boiled or too sophisticated. No flamboyance. No inference that the West Coast teams are the best ever. This Stanford team had been through the crucible, knew the bitterness of defeat, knew that it gained the upper hand on a worthy foe. And the Warner pupils were boyish and honest enough to admit their delight at the turn in their fortunes."

Dartmouth players added their testimony, proving their ability to accept defeat with rare grace, while old Harvard tore down its own goal posts to assist in the celebration. The East was genuinely impressed but not more so than were the Western boys with the Eastern hospitality and sportsmanship.—Oakland Tribune.

Old Man Gloom Banished By California Farm Women

BERKELEY. — Irrespective of what the men may think about it, a new edict of optimism and happiness has just been issued by the farm women of California. The new order of the day banishes gloom and depression.

In 21 counties, reports Miss Fleda E. Smith, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents in the Agricultural Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, University of California, farm women have set aside a day for play and community festival, the meetings taking on the form of "Hijinks," with attendance ranging from 150 to 500.

So far as known, farm "Hijinks" are original with California, and have been developed by Agricultural Extension Service home demonstration agents in co-operation with the home departments of the various counties. As a usual rule, the "Hijinks' 'are attended only by women.

Meetings Out Doors

At these meetings, held in the open country, get-acquainted games are played, old-fashioned dances held, community lunches, planned according to home economics recipes, are served, community songs, with original verses prepared by local farm women, are sung, and many stunts feature the day. At some of the "Hijinks" original costumes 100, 75 and 42 years old were worn.

In a number of counties, notably Contra Costa, Santa Cruz, Sacramento, Tehama, and Solano, "Hijinks" days took on the form of special birthday parties, celebrating 10 years of home demonstration agent work in those counties.

Special tribute was paid by the farm women of Contra Costa County to Miss Helen Burling, who has been home demonstration agent in that county for 10 years; and by the women of Tehama county to Miss Edna Black, who has served there in a similar capacity for the last 10 years. Santa Cruz and Sacramento counties have had three home demonstration agents in 10 years, and Solano county has had two, one of whom remained nine years.

Stunts Are Arrang

At some of the "Hijinks" meetings, special stunts have been put on by the children. A number of the counties during their "Hijinks" or play-day meetings, have given original two-act plays written by local farm women, some of them featuring home demonstration agent work and its value to farm women.

"Community play," says Miss Smith, "is good for the body and soul, and is particularly necessary at the present ti t banish the psychology of gloom and depression. The farm women of the state are leading in establishing a new outlook on life and a new horizon, based on faith, optimism and happiness."

Counties featuring "Hijinks' 'or community play-days this year, according to Miss Smith, include Contra Costa, Santa Cruz, Sacramento, Tehama, Napa, Solano, Merced, Madera, San Bernardino, Lassen, Monterey, Yolo, Butte, Fresno, Imperial, Kings, Tulare, Placer, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, and Stanislous.

SPRECKLE'S HANDICAP ON SAT. TANFORAN SCHEDULE

Several of the winners at the present Tanforan meeting, will go to the post Saturday in the Spreckles Handicap for $5000 added, according to the list of nominations released today by the Pacific Coast Breeders' Association, for the feature race this weekend. The selections for this feature include:

Nifty, Whizz, James, Sun Dot, Jim Dandy, Polly Doris, Brown Wisdom, My Dandy, Kamalii, Hey Diddle Diddle, Hot Shot, Lejoy and Peggy J. Many of these nominations have proven successful in various contests at Tanforan during the past few weeks.

The $2 secondary option system, adopted during the past week at Tanforan, has proven attractive to many racing fans. The association put the lower rate into effect after receiving hundreds of requests from track followers.

The tendency of many winter tracks this year to reduce purses and stake offerings has not met with favor at Tanforan, according to Judge Joseph A. Murphy, director of racing, who said this week that Tanforan is interested in working out a big Pacific coast sporting problem, rather than in present profits.

During the past two weeks several track records have been equalled at Tanforan, and one broken. This, the association cites, is substantiation of the promise at the beginning of the present meeting that racing at Tanforan would be on the highest plane.

A number of feature races have been scheduled for the San Bruno course for week-ends and holidays before the closing of the season, January 2.

Joe Rondon To Show On Legion Fight Program

Five fast bouts will feature the second annual smoker of the drum and bugle corps of the American Legion Post No. 105, which will be held Saturday evening in the Mezes Plaza hall. The time is 8:15.

The main event will bring together Joe Rondon, Redwood City boxing star and winner of the 135-pound championship in the Golden Gloves tournament, who will meet Tony English of San Francisco.

Benny Marquez, another fast Redwood City youngster, will meet the equally clever boxer, Bill Casey of the Governor Club of San Francisco at 126 pounds in the semi-windup.

Silvio Boicelli (112 pounds), third of the local boxers, will mix punches with Alex Romero of Twin Peaks Parlor, San Francisco, in the special event.

Preliminaries will bring together a fourth Redwood City boxer, Jack Roman, and Gabriel Tarancon of San Francisco, at 135 pounds, and Billy Brooks of the San Jose Golds and Angelo De Martini of San Francisco, at 175 pounds.

All local boxers will carry the colors of the Redwood City Athletic Club, and will be managed by Joe Marquez. Tarancon, De Martini and English will fight under the colors of the Reimer's and Burns' stable.

Herman Fleishman will referee the bouts.

Proceeds are to go to the Legion's Christmas tree fund for needy children. Admission will be 50 cents, with an invitation extended to all service men to support the smoker.

Light Tackle Club Prexy To Talk Here

Fred Rime, president of the Light Tackle Club, will give a talk to the Redwood City Sportsmen's Club in the near future, it was announced Tuesday. Rime was one of the speakers at a recent banquet of the Pacific Rod and Gun Club in San Francisco, when J. Springer was re-elected president for the fifth time.

At the banquet, Otto Maehl and George Zehender, of the local club, were present, and the former won a fine rod of light tackle specifications which was donated by a San Francisco store. The rod is now on display at Downs' Sport Shop.

There will be no motion pictures at the next meeting of the Redwood City sportsmen, but there will be some at a later date.

Each day at Buckingham Palace, London, over 150 breakfasts, lunches, and dinners are served to the permanent officials, servants, and attendants who form the Royal English retinue.

R. C. CAGERS TROUNCE MT. VIEW

By EL THOMAS

A field goal and a free throw packed into the final eight seconds of play gave the Redwood City Eagles a thrilling 27 to 26 victory over Benne's Play Boys of Mountain View in the opening game of the club basketball schedule in Redwood City Wednesday. In the preliminary game the Native Sons' lightweight five approached its own high score record by defeating the Mountain View weight quintet 63 to 11.

It was Lew Stacy, substitute guard entering the game in the last minute, who tossed in the free throw that decided the Eagle victory. But the veteran Tom Shine, also a guard, provided the big thrill by looping a long field goal from the center of the court to tie the score at 26-26 with a fraction of a minute left to play.

Things had been going well with the Eagles throughout the game. Some flashy work at forward by Johnny Weir gave the Eagles a 12 to 9 lead at half time over the Mountain View five that was without the services of its star guard, Bill Hubbard.

Gene Jordan, captain of the Eagles last year and a center of all-around ability, kept his team in the running throughout most of the second half by scoring four field goals. In spite of a pair of buckets by Toby McLaughlan, however, the Mountain View pulled steadily out in front during the fourth quarter through the efforts of Laznich, guard, who chalked up high point honors with 11. "Soapy" Johnson, former Burlingame high school cager, put Mountain View out in front 26 to 24 with but a minute to go.

Then came Shine's field goal to tie the score. On the tip-off play Stacy of the Eagles and Laznich of the Play Boys collided and Referee Ray Dimick called a double foul. Laznich stepped into the circle and missed his shot. Stacy didn't.

"Frenchy" Campagne was the big shot of the Native Sons last night, sinking the ball from every angle to run up 12 field goals. Capt. Jimmy McKay, Al Hallet, Paul Bartolomei, Curt Rayer and Sid Hinman gave Campagne plenty of support against a Mountain View quintet which was completely outclassed.

Stan Phillips Beats Garden City Nine

With Stanley ("Lefty") Phillips starring in the pitcher's box, the Berryessa baseball team won over the Garden City nine Sunday by a 2 to 1 score.

Phillips, former Palo Alto and Menlo Junior College hurler and now a member of the Seattle Indians, fanned 13 batters and allowed eight scattered hits.

High School Grid Players Receive Block 'S' Letters

Twenty-three members of the Sequoia high school varsity football team, which tied with Burlingame for the championship of the Peninsula Athletic League, and Manager Roy Tripp have been named by Coach Leonard Casanova as candidates for Block "S" sweater awards.

The awards are the first ever given to a Sequoia varsity team in American football, as the share in the title this year was the first gained by Sequoia since winning a rugby championship about 15 years ago.

Members of the squad winning letters for competing in the required number of games this season are:

Sequoia Water Polo Team Plays Saturday

Coach Jim Eva is grooming his Sequoia varsity water polo team for a return contest with the Athens Club seven of Oakland Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sequoia pool.

Last week the Cherokees splashers dropped a 5-2 game to the Athens Club after leading 1 to 0 at half time. Lack of condition after but one week's practice handicapped the Purple squad in its work against the veteran club mermen, but the prep athletes are limbering up this week and expect to have their full strength of experienced players in top shape.

The Indians are taking on heavy competition to prepare them for the Peninsula Water Polo League schedule which opens next month.

Broncos Open Cage Season On Jan. 2

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY, Dec. 10.—The Santa Clara varsity basketball team will open its regular season on January 2 against Whittier College at the Seifert gymnasium, it was announced here today.

The Whittier game will follow a three-game barnstorming tour on which the Bronco cagers will meet the Chico State College quintet on December 28. On the following evening the team plays the Pi Delts' fraternity team at Marysville, and will then go to Sacramento to meet the Sacramento Y. M. I. five.

A complete schedule for Coach Harlan Dykes' team will be announced within a few days.

Hawaii was a kingdom until a provisional government was set up in 1893. A republican government was established with Sanford B. Dole, a missionary's son, as president.

LOCAL PLAYERS SEEK TRYOUTS WITH INDIANS

Dick Wegner and Jack Rossi, star infielders of the Redwood City Eagle baseball team during the past season, are completing negotiations this week with the Cleveland Indians of the American League to play with one of the Cleveland "farm" teams in Tennessee next season.

Wegner, second baseman, and Rossi, shortstop, were consistent performers in the Eagle infield last season. If they make good in minor league competition in Tennessee, they will be given try-outs with the Indians. The players were given a send-off last week at the annual baseball banquet of Redwood City lodge, No. 418, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Prep Basket Team Points For Roseville, Santa Cruz

Defeated Wednesday afternoon by Balboa high school of San Francisco by the margin of three free throws, 19 to 16, the Sequoia varsity basketball team goes about its work in normal fashion today in preparation for a doubleheader contest with Coach Dick Worden's Roseville high school cagers in the Sequoia gymnasium tonight and with Santa Cruz there Saturday night.

Apparently having taken their basketball so seriously that they were too tightened up to play their best game, the Cherokee hoopsters were told by Coach Frank Griffin after the Balboa game to limber up and take their opponents as they come, win or lose.

The Sequoia defense, operating around Bugge and Matheson, guards, and LeRoy at center, was effective as usual Wednesday and held Coach Lloyd Leith's team to six field goals, only two of which were within the foul line. Four others, by Giannini, Rodriguez and Pyle, were via the long-range route.

Buckets by Blasdel, forward, and Bugge and Matheson gave Sequoia a slim lead at half time, 9 to 8. As has been the case in previous games this season, however, the Purple cagers were able to work the ball in for numerous scoring opportunities that failed because of lack of shooting ability.

Bob Alber, last year's star, is the only exception to a long list of Sequoia cagers during the past four or five years who have been fine ball handlers but poor shooters.

Coach Ray Dimick's 130-pound team, which blanked Watsonville last week, is showing well in practice and should be ready to handle Roseville and Santa Cruz this week-end in a creditable manner.

Masters Named On P. C. Officials Board

Alfred Masters, Stanford graduate manager; Coach "Clipper" Smith of Santa Clara, and Principal R. B. Leland of San Jose high school were named to the executive board of the Pacific Coast Officials' Association at a dinner meeting held at the Athens Club, Oakland, this week.

J. R. "Rufus" Klawans was elected president of the association and H. W. Jennings, vice president. Clarence "Nibs" Price, California, and Tommy Fitzpatrick were also named on the board.

Juniors Defeat Seniors At Interclass Football

Junior class football players defeated the seniors in the first round of interclass football competition at Sequoia Union High School Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0 in a contest that brought out more real football than was displayed by many of the players during the regular grid season.

Closing an evenly played first half, the juniors completed a 50-yard forward pass from Bob Svihus to Ken Hinchman, and Bill Ambrose raced around end to carry the ball to the 10-yard line as the period ended.

The juniors threatened early in the third quarter when Hoenck blocked Eaton's punt and recovered on the 10-yard line. The juniors were held for downs, but Hoenck rushed in to block another punt. From the 20-yard line, Svihus passed to Hinchman, who was downed on the three-yard line. Svihus fumbled on the first down and Tuxford recovered for the seniors.

Childers dropped a long pass from Eaton in a senior drive, but on the next play Jelich put the seniors in position to score by recovering Blackman's fumble on the junior 20-yard line. Eaton made 10 yards at left end, but the fourth-year men were held for downs as the game ended.

As a result of their win, the juniors are favored to take the interclass championship by defeating the combined freshman-sophomore eleven today.

ANNUAL THEATRE PARTY DEC. 22

The annual Christmas party and show sponsored by the Redwood City Exchange Club for children of the community will be held this year on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 22, in the Sequoia Theater. The festivities are to begin at 2 o'clock. Richard Dix in "Young Donovan's Kid" is to be the feature, and an Our Gang comedy, "Dogs Is Dogs," is also billed. Santa Claus will distribute the customary favors. Joseph Baughn heads the club committee, which is co-operating with Thomas Kane, manager of the theater.

Ancient cloisters, or parts of them, are still to be found in many parts of London; they are reminders of the days when the city boasted spacious monastic establishments.
